Garage Bands Unite

When most people hear the word “garage,” they immediately think of that place where they park the car, store their camping gear and do the laundry. For musicians, however, the garage has an entirely different mission. Along with the basement, it’s a room that most musically inclined people are happy to sacrifice in order to pursue their craft. Nearly all of us have jammed in someone’s garage at some point, and know the familiar tap of a local police officer’s Maglite on the door informing us that the neighbors have had enough.

The garage isn’t just for kids honing their chops in their first band either. Dave Grohl of the Foo Fighters famously converted the garage of his Encino home to a makeshift studio to record 2011’s Wasting Light. The Red Hot Chili Peppers still gather in Flea’s garage to jam on ideas before hitting the studio to record. Which says that there’s a magic surrounding that space, something inherently familiar to most of us that makes the garage a special place for playing music. For those of you still bashing it out in your own garages, this catalog is for you—be sure to check out all the great gear inside as well as articles that will help you make the most of your garage jams!

A. AT5040

Exceptionally detailed studio condenser.

Designed as a first-choice vocal microphone, the AT5040 features an extremely smooth top end with controlled sibilance. Large-diaphragm characteristics and fast transient response also make it ideal for recording acoustic instruments such as piano, guitar, strings and saxophone. The AT5040 represents a milestone in condenser design.

B. C451 65TH ANNIVERSARY EDITION

Limited-edition small-diaphragm condenser with a legendary sound.

AKG is celebrating 65 years of excellence with the C451 65th Anniversary Edition condenser microphone. The C451 Anniversary Edition embodies sound from the C451 EB with the CK1 capsule, delivering stunning quality and precision. It combines attractive design and high-quality "TITAN-Look" finish with stunning sound quality.

C. BABY BOTTLE

Stellar performance in the studio. Handcrafted solid state, Class A, discrete condenser mic with a precision-machined, gold-sputtered capsule enclosed in a lollipop spherical grille. Fixed cardioid pattern. Ideal for recording vocals, percussion, or any acoustical instruments. 20Hz-20kHz. 133dB max SPL.

D. MA-201FET

A large-diaphragm condenser with classic Royer performance.

The MA-201 has roots going back to when David Royer built custom mics for top studios. Featuring Jensen transformers, mil-spec FETs, and an ultra-clean signal path, it gives you a full-bodied sound reminiscent of the best-loved classic condensers. Great for vocals, acoustic instruments, overheads, and high-SPL sources.

E. MA-301FET

Large-diaphragm multi-pattern condenser mic.

The MA-301fet is a solid state condenser microphone. Based upon the popular MA-201fet designed by David Royer, the MA-301fet adds a 3-position pickup pattern selector, a 15dB pad and a switchable bass roll-off. Each MA-301fet microphone is carefully tested and evaluated, then packaged in its protective case with a professional grade shock mount.

A. X1 STUDIO BUNDLE

Studio mic and filter pack. This studio bundle from sE pairs up the detailed X1 condenser with the Reflexion Filter X mic isolator. Get a crisp, clean source recording from the hand-built capsule of the X1, while virtually eliminating any room coloration of your sound with the RF-X mic filter. A perfect combo for recording in less than perfect environments.

B. MK 4 STUDIO CONDENSER

Affordable, studio-quality condenser. The MK 4 is a large-diaphragm, true condenser microphone designed for professional studio recordings. Featuring fine resolution and outstanding sound quality, it offers excellent value for the price, making it an ideal choice for project studios.

C. C 214 LARGE DIAPHRAGM CONDENSER MIC

Affordable condenser, with acclaimed features. In the history of recording, only a handful of mics have made the engineers must-have list. One is the AKG C 414. While not terribly expensive, it's still out of reach for many project studio owners. Enter, the affordable C 214, a cardioid condenser that combines one side of the legendary C 414 dual-capsule system and AKG's patented back-plate technology for a sound very close to the famous C 414. It handles everything from electric guitar to voice and orchestral instruments and features a 20dB pad and low-cut switch. Carrying case, windscreens, and spider suspension mount included.

D. C 414 XLS CONDENSER MIC

A stage and studio staple redefined. The C 414 XLS' predecessor, AKG's legendary C 414, needs no introduction. It is an audio tool found in most recording studios and has been used on thousands of hit records. It has been on stage with artists of every musical genre and is also used by leading broadcast facilities the world over. This new version of it offers 9 pickup patterns for you to choose the perfect setting for every application.

E. BLUEBIRD MIC & DT770 HEADPHONE PACK

Record crystal-clear, soaring vocals without headphone bleed. Like its namesake, the Bluebird really sings. This multi-purpose condenser mic is great for vocals, guitars, and close-miking drums and acoustic instruments. A perfect match for Blue's high-quality sound, DT770 headphones are like strapping a pair of expensive studio monitors around your head. Their closed design virtually eliminates headphone bleed into the mic.

F. ST55 / ST31 CONDENSER MIC PACKAGE

High-quality instrument and vocal recording made affordable. The Sterling Audio ST55/ST31 condenser mic package gives you an affordable means to record instruments and vocals with high-quality sound. It includes the Sterling Audio ST55 FET large-diaphragm and ST31 mid-size diaphragm condenser mics. The ST31 is a "pencil" condenser that is ideal for acoustic guitar, and other signals with sparkle, whereas the ST55 is a fine mic for vocals, bass drum and other broader response signals. Package also includes the PF2 Mesh Pop Filter and the SM4 shock mount.

A. ZOOM PORTABLE RECORDERS

Compact production powerhouses. Zoom portable recorders seamlessly combine multi-track recording with intuitive control and features that make them ideal both in the studio and in the field. Capture audio from any setting, from live performances to audio for film, and instantly plug in to your DAW with the built-in interface and controller features. The R8 and R24 also give you sampler features.

B. Q2HD HANDY VIDEO RECORDER

HD video and pro audio in a handheld device. Record recitals, music or dance lessons, lectures or anything else you want to preserve for sharing or for your own future reference. It streams live in real time, records in 1080p HD resolution, 24-bit/96kHz PCM sound quality, and has zoom and lighting adjustment functions that will help your videos look their best.

C. H4N HANDY RECORDER

Capture perfect stereo images from the palm of your hand. The H4n is one of Zoom's most sophisticated pocket recorders, featuring a digitally controlled mic pre with 24-bit/96kHz linear PCM and MP3 recording. The XY stereo condenser mics provide perfect localization for stereo recording, along with Hi-Z instrument inputs, studio effects, tuner, USB 2.0 port, metronome, and more.

D. LS SERIES RECORDERS

Elite class of handheld recorders. Olympus Digital Linear PCM Recorders provide better-than-CD-quality sound, multiple recording formats, and plenty of internal memory as well as removable SD media. High-sensitivity microphones capture every detail and nuance of a recording. The durable, lightweight aluminum body allows for one-handed use.

E. PCM-M10

Pint-sized companion for composing, recording, and playback. The PCM-M10 includes high-resolution 24-bit/96kHz recording, 4GB flash memory, a pair of stereo condensers, pitch control, limiter, low-cut filter, track marking, record buffer, and more, all tucked into a stylish and rugged design.

F. DR-05

CD-quality recording in the palm of your hand. Record super-clean 24-bit/96kHz audio to microSD/SDHC media thanks to the DR-05's specially designed low-noise circuitry and improved stereo mics that handle up to 125dB SPL. Peak Reduction automatically sets recording gain, while limiter and low-cut filter ensure distortion-free capture.

G. DR-07MKII

A simple, compact way to record high-quality sound. The DR-07 MKII is a portable digital recorder with style. The pair of built-in mics captures a wide stereo image, recording in either MP3 or 16/24-bit WAV format. AA batteries power the DR-07 and it transfers files via USB 2.0 connection. Includes a windscreens, tripod stand mount and 2GB SD card to start recording right away.

H. DP-24 24-TRACK DIGITAL PORTASTUDIO

Compact, CD-quality recording in a portable, digital studio. This mobile 24-track studio features solid state recording, color LCD display, channel strip controls, 18 linear channel faders, master fader, and channel strip encoders with controls for EQ, pan and FX. You can easily achieve quality recordings anywhere you need to, and, with its built-in CD-RW drive you also have instant mixdown and back-up options.

HANDS-ON REVIEW

Studio One Professional Version 2.5

PreSonus continues to build on Studio One's promise, while retaining its original vision

By Craig Anderton, Editor in Chief, Harmony Central

In a little over four years, Studio One Professional (SOP for short) has gone from "who needs another DAW?" to being an accepted, well-respected mainstream DAW. Rather than dwell on details (you can download a trial version and explore it yourself), let's "zoom out" and analyze why SOP has managed to make these kind of inroads, and why not only have some people jettisoned their existing DAW for SOP, but also, why even some who've stayed with a different DAW have added SOP to their toolkit.

More than Music Creation

PreSonus is into making tools "from riff to release," and SOP exemplifies that philosophy by emphasizing publishing your music after you've created it. There are two elements to this; the first is that SOP is really two programs in one—a multitrack recording DAW, and a complete mastering/authoring program for creating CDs or online collections of downloadable files. But SOP's genius aspect is how the two are integrated.

For example, suppose you've recorded ten songs, loaded them into the mastering (project) page, tweaked them for consistent levels and dynamics, and are about to upload your collection to SoundCloud or Nimbit (or burn a CD)—but the vocals are just a little low in cut 3. You don't have to quit the mastering page, call up the file, make the change, re-render, re-load into the mastering page, etc.; you can jump right back into the mix from the mastering page, do your edit, return to the mastering page, and tell it to update the mix. Done.

The second element is publishing. Whether you're burning one CD for a friend or exporting a DDP file to a professional duplicator, you can do it in SOP—as well as upload data-compressed (or non-compressed) files to the web. I've used SOP to send files to duplicators for several album projects, and all went without a hitch. Couple this with mastering-quality processors, along with a generous assortment of analysis tools, and it's no wonder that SOP gets the call when I need to master/prepare an album for publishing.

A Question of Vision

As a multitrack DAW, SOP isn't physically that different from others—it has audio and MIDI tracks, hosts plug-ins, has comprehensive mixing options, does automation, and the like. But SOP's strength is that it focuses with laser precision on the music creation process (e.g., there's no notation or surround support). SOP received its initial warm reception because it was sleek, reliable, and fast; wisely, PreSonus has never lost sight of that vision, and avoided the temptation to keep adding features that served only a handful of users but added to bloat. Sure, they folded in Melodyne for quality pitch editing, and developed an amp sim, but many of the updates have been dedicated to streamlining the workflow and code even further. As an analogy, an SOP update is like sharpening a knife—not turning it into a Swiss army knife with a bottle opener and nail file.

Details, Too

There are scores of little improvements. Rather than include some new effect, SOP adds wet/dry mix controls to the three different existing compressors as well as the Red Light Dist distortion, introduces another chorus mode, and cleans up the amp models in Ampire XT. Automation is now easier to use, mostly by improving how you work with automation points. MIDI editing includes legato and overlap correction, and there are subtle browser improvements, like being able to replace clips with drag-and-drop or add multiple clips simultaneously. You can even record a synth, bus, or ReWire output into an audio track—sort of like "re-amping" within the program. There are lots of little changes like this, all of which lead to a smoother overall experience.

Conclusions

SOP 2.5 is a free update to current users, but for those who haven't experienced SOP, it's also a great place to start. SOP is a thoroughly modern DAW that leveraged a fresh start with a fresh code base into a clever, efficient program that has garnered a loyal (and growing) following; V2.5 remains true to SOP's original vision, while enhancing that vision's focus.

PreSonus Studio One Professional Version 2.5 features:

- Editable folder tracks—cut, copy, paste, etc.
- Smooth, efficient take comping
- Enhanced effects, including wet/dry mix for compressors and distortion
- Free Softube Saturation knob to registered users
- Easier automation editing
- Re-record instrument, ReWire, and bus tracks into audio tracks
- No hit on workflow or speed despite numerous enhancements
- Efficient CPU usage and high-resolution audio engine

PreSonus's Studio One Professional Version 2.5 updates their popular software with features that add functionality, while retaining the program's trademark sleek workflow and speed. A. ATH-M STUDIO HEADPHONES

Professional studio monitor headphones.

The ATH-M series headphones are made to monitor professional mixes. Audio-Technica has achieved an exceptionally accurate response for critical listening, and exceptional comfort for long sessions. Circumaural earpieces swivel 180° for easy one-ear monitoring and luxuriously padded ear cushions create an outstanding seal for maximum isolation.

B. HD 280 PRO

Mix-worthy reference headphones. The circumaural design offers up to 32dB external sound attenuation making them ideal for noisy environments, live shows, and DJ use. Ruggedly built with optimum sensitivity – these babies are LOUD! Smooth frequency response from 8Hz-25kHz. Collapsible earcups make them easy to stow. Ear pads, headband, padding and cable are easily replaceable.

C. DT 770 PRO

For critical monitoring needs. Closed-back, diffuse-field headphones feature bass reflex technology for improved bass response, and clinically accurate high and midrange reproduction. E. SRH440

Enhanced frequency response delivers accurate audio across an extended range. With Shure's reputation for sound quality and extreme durability, the SRH440 will deliver in the studio or at home for years to come. Its closed-back, circumaural design rests comfortably over the ears and reduces background noise. Impedance, power handling, and sensitivity are all calibrated for professional audio devices such as DJ mixers, mixing consoles, and headphone amplifiers.

F. HD205 II

Designed with exceptional sound and comfort for DJs. Studio-grade detail and frequency response coupled with brilliant shielding of ambient noise. The rotatable earcup, and single-sided cable, make them ideal for DJs and home recording. Unlike competitive headphones, the earcup rotates while maintaining earpad contact on your head for stability and comfort without leaking noise into adjacent microphones. Includes a convenient protective pouch and locking 1/4" adapter.

G. SRH240A

Excellent sound reproduction and comfort. Optimized 40mm neodymium dynamic drivers help these headphones reproduce deep bass with clear mids and highs. The impedance, power handling and sensitivity are calibrated for connection to most audio devices. Re-engineered headband & ear cup construction provide ergonomic, comfortable fit. A Project Studio Kit
421724 MSRP $239.99 $219<sup>99</sup>

A. PROJECT STUDIO KIT
Get your room sound mix-ready in no time.
Your final mixes will only be as good as your room is. Keep the walls and ceilings from coloring your music, and get the most out of your gear. The acoustics kit contains 6 - 1' LENRD bass traps, 24 - 1' x 1' x 1" Studiofoam panels, 2 - MoPAD SE Monitor Isolator pads, and two tubes of Tubetak Pro Liquid adhesive to put them all up.

B. ROOMINATOR PROJECT 2
Kill unwanted reflections! Takes the guesswork out of acoustics and makes it easy to tame nasty sound problems. Designed primarily for rooms with less than 100 square feet of floor space. Kit contains 24 Studiofoam wedge panels (2' x 2' x 2"), 8 LENRD bass traps, and 5 Tubetak pro adhesives.

C. MS-90/36 STUDIO MONITOR STANDS
Isolate your monitors with these stylish 36" tall stands. MS-90/36 studio reference monitor stands are 36" tall column-style stands made of sturdy, Series 6000 aluminum, and are designed for both exceptional support as well as practicality and style. They feature three internal cable channels that run the length of the column, giving you the opportunity to run a power cable and audio cable through two, while filling the third with sand or shot for even more stability.

RYAN
TEDDER
of OneRepublic

Since 2007, OneRepublic's Ryan Tedder has had a huge impact on music charts all over the world as a singer, songwriter, multi-instrumentalist and producer. There are the OneRepublic hits he's helped pen, including "Apologize," "Stop and Stare," "All The Right Moves," and, most recently, "Feel Again." He's also co-written or produced for others including Leona Lewis, Gavin Degraw, Colbie Caillat and Beyonce, not to mention his recent Grammy win as one of the producers of Adele's juggernaut album 21. Recently we were able to talk to the prolific artist about his personal journey as a musician who developed into a producer, and the perseverance of OneRepublic.

So where did Tedder get his deep passion for music? For one, it's in his blood. "My dad was a gospel songwriter. He was like a published songwriter way back in the day and he turned me on to songs. My upbringing endowed me with an advantage in melody partly because of my dad's just absolute bombardment of popular music to me at all times." The other half he blames on church. "For singers, that makes sense, right? 'Cause you're in a choir, as I was. But for writing big songs, a spiritual or sacred song, is designed, that by the time you make it to that second chorus it has to be hooky and simple enough that you are part of the worship and not a bystander."

Ryan was quick to emulate his father, jumping on the piano in the basement at the precocious age of 3, but it would take him a while before he was able to find a love for singing solo in front of a crowd. "I'd always had a certain knack for singing ... so my choir teachers had said, and my piano teachers ... and I quietly sang every single day that I could possibly remember from the time I was nine or 10. I'd go in my closet and shut the door 'cause it was sound baffling with all the clothes. I didn't want my mom to know." Though he was only allowed to listen to Christian music at home, he did have a Pet Sounds cassette, and developed a taste for Britpop acts like Doves and Oasis, as well as more established acts like U2 (Tedder respected the fact that Bono was also raised in a Pentacostal Assembly of God) and Peter Gabriel.

His senior year, the family moved to Colorado Springs where he met his OneRepublic bandmate Zach Filkins. "Probably the only thing traditional about this band is how he and I came together. After like the second or third soccer practice, I didn't have a car, and he offered to take me home. I get in the car and he's playing Oasis, I think, and I was like, 'No way, you like Oasis? That's awesome.' And he's like 'Aw man, music's my life.' A few months later, the two teammates competed in a Battle of the Bands with Tedder behind the drums (one of the many instruments he's adept at) and the Barcelona-bred Filkins on guitar. It was shortlived, however, as they both attended different colleges. At Oral Roberts University Tedder, who'd already began writing songs on piano and drums, picked up a habit other than schoolwork. "My freshman year, my roommate had an acoustic guitar, and that was it. I skipped class and played acoustic guitar. I had all these tutorials on how to play guitar and I was at that point going through my Clapton phase, so I'd buy anything Clapton, and I would just study his riffs. I would sit there and just play til my fingers bled."

...I would just study his [Clapton] riffs and would sit there literally and just play til my fingers bled.

He did manage to right the ship and graduated with a degree in PR and Advertising, landing an internship at Dreamworks Publishing in Nashville as a runner. One day he saw a flier for a singer/songwriter competition that included a record deal and appearance on MTV, and decided to audition. He won the Nashville regional, and then it was off to New York where he nervously took the stage on TRL, in front of judges Pink and Brian McKnight, and beat out four others with just an acoustic guitar singing a Babyface-like ballad called "The Look."

The MTV deal didn't amount to much, but it did get him noticed by the hottest producer of the era, Timbaland, who spent a year trying to track the young man down, wanting to add him to his stable of producers and songwriters. It was during the next year and a half, while Timbaland was blowing up artists like Missy Elliott, Justin Timberlake, and Nelly Furtado that Ryan would learn many tricks of the trade that have made him successful as a producer and songwriter today. It was also where he crafted what would later become the first of his many hits. "When I did 'Apologize' I didn't have a drummer. It was just me. So I laid the piano down. I didn't even know how to make a click track, like a tempo to map out to record to. The only thing I did know how to do was use an MPC drum machine. So I play it on the piano and the only drums sounds I had were, you know, Timbaland sounds. So it was like (imitates beats). So I'm using what I got. It was super limited, super minimal, but there was this cool honesty to it, and it resonated emotionally."

In 2002, armed with "Apologize" and a few other ideas, he headed out west to Los Angeles where he was able to convince his old classmate to rejoin him in the pursuit of fame and fortune. They rounded out the band (at the time Republic) with another guitarist, Drew Brown, Brent Kutzle on bass and cello, and Eddie Fisher on drums/percussion. In the course of three months they played two gigs and recorded a five-song demo in Tedder's bedroom. The demo landed them a meeting with A&R rep Wendy Goldstein of Capitol Records. He described it as "the craziest, wackiest meeting. I mean we talked about Radiohead 'cause that was one of our other favorite bands. And she said, 'Well I'm not signing you, but I wanted to meet you. Go out and book every possible show you can book and play your asses off and I'll see you in a year."

The band was completely deflated, thinking they had a record deal, but they went out and took her advice. They became regulars in the lineups of all the Sunset Strip clubs, and by May of 2004, they finally had enough of a following to sell out a show at the Roxy. They ended up doing a few more showcase performances, and signed later that year to Velvet Hammer, a Columbia Records subsidiary. They recorded an album that included what would eventually become their second hit "Stop and Stare", with producer Greg Wells (who'd worked with Deftones). The record release date was set for 6/6/6 which Tedder thought was somewhat ominous considering his background. "My mom was like 'It's the mark of the beast. You want me to tell my friends to buy my son's record on the mark of the beast?' I'm not joking."

They were both right to be apprehensive. The band was dropped from Columbia two months before the album came out. Frustrated, Tedder uploaded "Apologize" and "Stop and Stare" on the band's MySpace page that night and switched their status to unsigned. They quickly became the number one unsigned act on the then-popular social media site. It didn't take long before an old friend reached out to the band, Timbaland. He said he wanted to sign them immediately and have the album come out on Interscope. While things were looking up, Tedder says the band was skeptical. "Timbaland took 'Apologize,' remixed it, and Interscope said 'We're going to put it on his album for exposure. We're going to bury it. It's going to be track 10 or 11. It's not going to be a single.'"

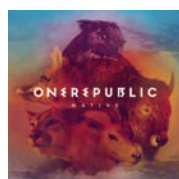

The band freaked out, thinking that having your first single be a remix on someone else's album was a recipe for disaster. It had quite the opposite effect, and by the time they released Dreaming Out Loud, the public was ready for more OneRepublic. Though they had had dreams of originally being alternative rock stars, the popularity of "Apologize" made them genreless, allowing them to evolve and have fun making whatever kind of music they wanted. The success of the follow-up single "Stop and Stare" meant they weren't one-hit wonders. The success of their sophomore effort, Waking Up, with singles "All the Right Moves," "Secrets," and "Good Life" confirmed they were legit. As a bonus to their newfound success, Tedder was able to live out a dream opening up for his Pentacostal brother Bono on U2's 360 Stadium Tour.

Meanwhile, he's continued to pad his résumé by working with a wide variety of artists, including Cobra Starship, The Wanted, Carrie Underwood, Maroon 5, J.Lo, James Blunt, Gym Class Heroes, Natasha Bedingfield, Far East Movement, B.o.B., Chris Cornell, Backstreet Boys, Jordin Sparks, James Morrison, and many others.

The cover of OneRepublic's latest album, Native, is a collage of five animals, a reflection of how each member of the band is completely different from each other. It's no coincidence that the animal representing Tedder is a fox. In most cultures the fox symbolizes cunning, cleverness, adaptability, wisdom, determination, and focus. The red in the fur of a fox is believed to be a solar emblem that depicts passion, desire, intensity and expression. Then there's the phrase "crazy like a fox" which in some circles means unpredictable. All of these describe the 33-year old Oklahoma native's career to a tee.

As Tedder put it, "There's no rules. You don't get to choose. You can pick the path that you want to go down, but you have no idea if it that path forks or goes left or right around that bend. You just pick the path. Once you commit to it, you're on it and you think 'Oh, it's going over here,' but really it's going over here. So you take it and really do the best you can with it." In other words, if you really want to get into the henhouse, you've got to think like a fox.

Pick up OneRepublic's new album, Native, wherever great music is sold.

Love Thy Neighbor

Keep the Peace, While Practicing Anytime You Wish.

by Mark Merlino, Musician's Friend Staff Writer

We all know the feeling; the best time to practice may not be the most courteous time for playing music. The next thing you know your neighbor is banging on your garage door or even worse, they've called the cops. Luckily there are options. You could move to a remote location with no neighbors, pay for long hours at expensive rehearsal halls, or simply get a JamHub.

By integrating the JamHub into your practice sessions, not only are you going to please all of your neighbors, you'll also be making the most of your busy schedule. Gone are the days of needing a loud practice PA to blast out the band's sound while you rehearse. Your entire practice will only be as loud as the acoustic instruments you use and if your drummer has an electronic drum kit, then all of the external sound is reduced to just some tapping and a few singing voices. Let's face it, not all musicians even have a garage to practice in. Imagine the ability to practice at any hour with neighbors above, below, or on all sides of your apartment.

The process is simple, all you need to do is plug your instruments and mics into the JamHub, and assign each band member their own channel number. Then all they have to do is just plug-in a pair of headphones and dial-in a personal mix of the rest of the band and you'll be able to keep practicing all night or until you get it right!

JamHub BedRoom

The JamHub BedRoom edition gives you 15 audio channels for up to a total of five musicians, with 5 XLR and 5 TRS jacks for inputs. This is a great option for any band with 5 or less members that's looking to practice quietly without disturbing the neighbors.

JamHub GreenRoom

JamHub's GreenRoom edition offers the ability for up to seven musicians to practice together. There's a total of seven XLR and TRS inputs, and the GreenRoom adds in both phantom power for studio condensers and a USB out so you can record your practice sessions on a computer.

JamHub TourBus

The JamHub TourBus edition is the maxed out version and features a built-in SD RAM card slot and recording system with metronome for capturing practices on the road. It has support for up to seven musicians with a total of seven XLR and TRS inputs, USB output, and phantom power.

Sennheiser HD 280 Pro

You're going to need headphones if you want to keep the practice quiet, and the HD 280 Pro are a good choice. Their solid construction and around ear design make for a great practice pair of cans.

242411 $99<sup>95</sup>

Audio-Technica ATH-M50

The ATH-M50's offer great isolation and comfort, making them another wise choice for practicing. They provide outstanding high-frequency response and excellent low-end response so you can hear all the details of the band. Add $10 for white.

240569 MSRP $199.00 $159<sup>00</sup>

Live Wire Headphone Extension - 10ft

Give the band some space; add a headphone extension to your JamHub rig.

A. BETA SERIES

Rugged and road-ready mics. The Beta Series from Shure are built to withstand the road and the abuse that comes with a traveling musician. These warm, natural-sounding mics provide maximum isolation and high gain before feedback, which makes them great for any stage. These mics are engineered to reproduce fine details in the most demanding environments.

B. e 835

Outstanding combination of affordability, build quality, and performance. Designed for stage use, it gives vocals a solid sound with good projection. A gentle presence boost provides clarity without sounding unnatural. Minimal proximity effect means good overall tonal balance without over-accentuating low frequencies as you move closer to the capsule.

C. e 935

Professionally developed to cut through high onstage sound levels. Rugged metal body with advanced shock mount design takes what the road dishes out for years of reliable service. Consistent on-/off-axis response minimizes feedback problems and makes performance easier. Hum-compensating coil reduces noise and allows for longer leads. Made in Germany. Includes carry pouch and mic clip.

D. D 5

A live performance vocal mic designed for singers in high-volume bands. The supercardioid polar pattern ensures maximum gain before feedback and a crisp sound that cuts through every mix. The dual shock mount eliminates any kind of mechanical noise for trouble-free live use.

E. SM58

The world's most popular vocal mic. This mic has not only helped define the sound of rock vocals on stage, it's also been used as a hammer to build stages and gone on to perform flawlessly later at the gig. Using a club's house system? You'll likely be singing through an SM58. And in the studio? Daniel Lanois often uses the SM58 or Beta 58 on Bono's vocals.

Relay G30 Digital Wireless System

Professional dependability, and refreshing simplicity.

It provides a signal so pure that guitars produce beautiful high-end sparkle and basses explode with thunderous low-end punch at distances up to 98'. Clarity rivals that of the highest-quality guitar cables. Traditional wireless systems compromise their sound by rolling off crucial high- and low-end frequencies and compressing their signals. Relay G30 offers full bandwidth and zero compression. Superior 118dB dynamic range. 8-hour battery life.

GLX-D DIGITAL WIRELESS

The GLX-D Series wireless is Shure's latest design in digital wireless. Digital wireless has several advantages over conventional wireless systems, most notably that the signal doesn't undergo a compression process at the transmitter followed by an expansion process at the receiver. Digital wireless decreases noise and preserves greater signal integrity. The GLX-D product line brings first-quality digital wireless into a price range that is within the reach of working musicians. Available in handheld, guitar, lavalier and headset configurations, GLX-D digital wireless is positioned to revolutionize live performance.

Putting the band back in the garage

by John McVarish, Musician's Friend Staff Writer

Imagine your group or family's musical equipment, always plugged in and ready to jam. Anytime inspiration strikes or the team is available, you just turn on and rock out. That sounds nice, but most of us can't devote a whole room in our homes for band rehearsals. If you have a garage though, there might be an opportunity to arrange a convenient practice space there. The problem is that the garage will probably already be full of everyone's stuff, if not a car or two.

One of the pleasures of being a musician is the pursuit of the perfect sound and setup. When you're onstage, you have your carefully chosen live rig and hopefully a decent house PA. If you handle your own sound reinforcement, then you've certainly put a lot of research and effort into finding the right features, convenience and value.

Shopping for rehearsal space gear can be just as fun, albeit with a different list of requirements. What you choose depends on your budget, how much space you have, the noise-level you should respect and whether you're able to leave everything set up. Fortunately, technology is on our side. The trend in musical equipment is to squeeze more and more features into ever-smaller and even less expensive packages.

As we say goodbye to the days of tall stacks, high volumes and noise complaints, let's consider some new and impressive gear that will make sharing the garage to make music an achievable dream.

To E-Kit Or Not To E-Kit

Ludwig Breakbeats by Questlove 4-Piece Shell Pack

Here's a garage-friendly kit designed by Ahmir "Questlove" Thompson that stores easily and delivers a rough-and-ready sound despite its sub-compact size. Created for sonic punch and portability it includes 4 pieces: a 16 x 14" bass drum, a 13 x 13" floor tom, a 10 x 7" tom and a matching 14 x 5" snare, all in Azure Sparkle that'll brighten your windowless garage. It comes with a bass drum lift that gets the kit to full-size playable height or that can be left off for younger players.

H91063 . . .MSRP $619.00 $399<sup>99</sup>

Roland V-Drums TD-4-KP Portable Electronic Drum Set

Here's the ultimate e-kit for sharing space in the garage. It's ultracompact and collapses quickly to take up barely any room. The TD-4 sound module is loaded with a wide range of expressive, editable sounds, and comes with 8 integrated pads that provide a satisfying feel and natural playability. These include kick, snare, toms x3, hi-hat, crash and ride cymbals. The kit also comes with a FD-8 Hi-Hat Controller. Just add a kick pedal and monitor.

Simmons DA50 Electronic Drum Set Monitor

This 50-watt workhorse is the right size for rehearsing with electronic drums in the garage. It's efficiently angled to direct the sound where you want it and has a 10" woofer and a separate high-frequency tweeter to reproduce full percussive dynamics. Its 1/8" MP3 and 1/4" aux inputs with independent volume control allow you to mix in prerecorded backing tracks. There's even a headphone jack for silent practice.

Shell-size Bass and Guitar Amps

TC Electronic BG250 Combo

A 15" speaker and 250 watts of class D power might seem like overkill for the garage, but its efficient design and cool features make this bass combo hard to resist. The preamp includes an integrated tuner, TubeDrive, intelligent Bass Tone controls and balanced XLR out. An amazing effects section called TonePrint lets you swap effects at any time. Simply connect the amp to a computer via a USB cable or beam the effect from your smartphone straight into this combo using the TonePrint iOS and Android app.

Peavey Vypyr VIP 1 20W 1x8 Guitar Modeling Combo Amp

The new Peavey VYPYR VIP series provides amplification for a variety of instruments from acoustic and electric guitars to basses. Using a combination of powerful 32-bit, floating point SHARC processors and patented TransTube analog circuitry, this garage-sized titan creates some of the best sounding modeling amps available. The USB bi-directional data and audio port provides an easy way to record, connect to VYPYR software, store presets, get lessons and practice to backing tracks.

Fender Blues Junior™ NOS Combo

The Blues Jr. pushed through a 12" Jensen speaker. A warm-toned favorite, this version of the vintage 15W all-tube amp features a 12" Jensen speaker and that sound that comes from a pair of EL84 Groove Tube output tubes and three 12AX7 preamp tubes. Add renowned Fender reverb, flexible controls and footswitchable (with optional switch) FAT circuit for golden tones, and you're in the blues business. Lacquer tweed with pinstripe grille cloth.

483711. . .MSRP $789.99 $599<sup>99</sup>

Where Are The Garage Keys?

Roland KC-60 Keyboard Amp

Keyboards require a full-frequency amp. This garage-friendly model is the most compact in Roland's KC series, yet still has enough power to compete with a small drum kit. Its 40W power section drives a 10" speaker with 3 separate channels that include 1/4" line, XLR mic, and aux inputs so you can easily mix different sound sources. Rotary controls adjust channel and headphone outputs plus low and hi EQ. Also, there's even a subwoofer output that offers big bottom-end potential if needed.

480025. . .MSRP $444.00 $349<sup>00</sup>

Space-Saving P.A.

Mackie DL1608 iPad Mixer

Mix from anywhere in the venue. The DL1608 redefines live mixing by combining a full-featured digital mixer with the ease and mobility of the iPad. With 16 boutique-quality Onyx mic preamps, and 24-bit Cirrus Logic AD/DA converters, you're guaranteed professional quality sound. Seamless wired to wireless iPad control means you can mix from anywhere in the venue, and with support for up to 10 iPads, each band member can control their own monitor mix.

Mackie SRM150 Active Speaker

Designed to top a mic stand or boom. The SRM150 Compact Active PA Speaker is ideal for a wide variety of applications. Don't be fooled by its small size, it's a powerful 3-channel PA system that is ultracompact, versatile, expandable, and affordable.

Yamaha STAGEPAS 300 Portable PA System

Pack your PA, amp, and guitars in your back seat without a shoehorn. Ultracompact design incorporates 2 - 2-way loudspeakers, a 6/8-channel (4 mono, 2 stereo) mixer, and dual 150W amplifiers in a sound system that one person can handle. Each speaker contains an 8" woofer, 1" compression driver, and its own amp. The mixer features balanced XLR and 1/4" jacks, mic/line switches, stereo RCA jacks, 2-band channel EQ, and reverb. Stereo-out and monitor connections let you set your monitor level and connect to an external PA. The entire system packs neatly into the speaker enclosures. Includes power and speaker cables.

HANDS-ON-REVIEW

DLM Series Powered Speakers

Loud meets compact meets cost-effective

By Craig Anderton, Editor Emeritus, Harmony Central

As small- and mid-size venues become increasingly commonplace, the huge PA paradigm is overkill—not just because you don't need that much power, but you also don't want to take up that much space. Mackie's extremely compact DLM series beefs up the "personal PA" concept in multiple ways, making the series scalable from small venues, to monitor systems, all the way up to mid-size venues—and can even offer enough oomph for serious DJ applications.

Meet the Family

The line consists of the DLM8 (22lb.) and DLM12 (31lb.) full-range powered speakers, with 8" and 12" speakers respectively and 1.75" compression driver. The DLM12S subwoofer (48lb.) offers a 12" speaker. Each has a total of 2000W peak (1000W RMS) of class D power amplification, and the DLM8 and DLM12 both feature coaxial, vertically-aligned speakers (what Mackie calls "TruSource") so that the sound from the tweeter and woofer emanate from the same point. This provides a more coherent sound and minimizes interference between the two drivers. They also share a common magnet, which simplifies the design and helps reduce weight.

The high power means the amps can handle just about any transient you can throw at them without clipping (protection circuits are there if levels get out of hand), and the quiet onboard "smart" fan rarely needs to kick in. The speaker enclosures use high-impact polycarbonate ABS plastic; the sub opts for wood. 20 gauge speaker grilles provide protection, while the DLM8 and DLM12 have "kickstands" that angle the units at 50 degrees for monitoring applications. Mackie recommends the DL1608 or DL806 digital live sound mixer is a r complement to the DLM system. For more information, see musiciansfriend.com/mackie.

Size Matters

It's amazing how much level you can get out of a box even as small as the DLM8, which is about the theoretically smallest box that can still hold an 8" speaker. It's super-portable, and you can put it just about anywhere—next time you have to set up in a corner of the bar, you can say "okay" instead of "no way." Load in and out is painless, and the DLM12 isn't much more difficult to lug around. The sub takes more effort to carry but even then, something that can blast the bass at under 50lb. is still pretty impressive.

Electronics

The powered speakers include the DL2 onboard digital mixer with two inputs. One has a combo jack and mic/line switch (but no phantom power), while the other input has a combo jack that accommodates instrument or line levels but also includes two RCA phono jacks. A thru jack carries either the signal from input 1, or a mix of the two inputs, which is very helpful for monitor applications. Each input has a level control, 3-band EQ, and send control for one of the 16 onboard effects (various combinations of reverb, chorus, and delay). Globally, there are six EQ-based speaker voicing options, a multi-band feedback reducer, one factory and three user presets, and delay up to 300ms that's separate from the effects for balcony placement and such. All units in the series, including the sub, have bright, readable-in-daylight OLED displays.

Sub-Substantial

Mixing and effects aren't relevant for a sub, so it has XLR connections for the two line level ins, two full-range outs for side fills and the like, and two high-pass outs for direct connection to DLM loudspeakers (with presets voiced for DLM and SRM-series full-range speakers). However, the DLM12S is intended for use with other systems too, so the digital crossover controls are exposed. It also folds in speaker protection, three presets, and switchable 300ms delay.

Conclusions

The portability, extras, electronics, and cost-effectiveness mean nothing if the sound isn't there—but it sure is. The first word that comes to mind is "clarity," with a clean, smooth sound that never grates and provides a relatively wide sweet spot. Surprisingly, even the DLM8 has sufficient bass that you probably won't need the sub for most applications (an obvious exception is hardcore club music, like techno or dubstep) although of course, if you really want to shake the house then a couple of DLM12 speakers with the sub can handle mid-sized clubs with ease.

The highs are never "screechy," and there's no midrange "boxiness" (you can thank the onboard DSP for that). Compared to some of the "old standby" speakers, the DLM models sound pleasing and even. In short, they achieve that open, "really loud hi-fi system" kind of sound instead of the denser, darker sound sometimes associated with conventional PAs. But one of the most important points is that all this is achieved in such a portable, compact format. In particular, it's hard to believe the DLM8 can put out so much sound from such a little package. Personal PAs may not be glamorous pieces of gear, but Mackie's manufacturing mojo has resulted in a line that hits a sweet spot of cost-effectiveness, sound quality, scalability, and size.

Mackie DLM Series powered speaker features:

- Substantial volume from compact enclosures
- Sub complements the line well when you need serious bass punch
- Two-channel mixer with XLR/1/4" combo jack inputs and RCA unbalanced ins
- Free Softube Saturation knob to registered users
- 3-band EQ, fixed delay up to 300ms, 16 effects, and anti-feedback control
- Four presets (one factory, three user)
- Pole-mountable, flyable, or mount on wall
- Multiple forms of speaker protection
- "Kickstand" tilts speakers at 50-degree angle for monitoring applications

Mackie's DLM series is all about maximum levels from the most compact enclosures possible, coupled with sonic clarity and a cost-effective price. Order today with the complete assurance of Musician's Friend's 45-Day Total Satisfaction and Lowest Price Guarantees.

MSRP

Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price ("MSRP") is the suggested retail selling price of a product provided to us by manufacturers. We may commonly sell products at prices lower than MSRP and, for any given product, no sales may have occurred at MSRP. MSRP is a benchmark to compare our discounts from MSRP to pricing offered by other retailers. Whether other retailers sell at MSRP will vary by product, geographic location, type of store, and over time. Although we periodically update the MSRPs posted in our stores, direct mail offerings, and on our website as we receive them, in some cases manufacturers may change a suggested retail price without notice to us. Please contact the manufacturer of a specific product for the most up-to-date MSRP information. MSRPs quoted for house or private label brands are developed internally in consideration of comparable name brand products. We may commonly sell such products at prices lower than MSRP and, for any given product, no sales may have occurred at MSRP. Although our limited time events are intended to be limited time events, our low prices offered during these events may continue in effect after the event.

Limited Quantities

Some products, including those identified as Hot Buys, Closeouts, Limited Quantity items, Factory B-Stocks, and Free Gifts may be limited to stock on hand and are offered on a first come, first served basis.

Mailing List

Our mailing list is occasionally made available to carefully screened companies whose products may be of interest to our customers. If you'd like your name and address removed from this shared list, please call our customer service center at 800-217-5207. Receiving duplicate catalogs? Send us all of the mailing labels and indicate which one is correct. Send to: Musician's Friend, Customer Service, P.O. Box 1117, Draper, UT 84020-1117. Please note that these requests may take up to eight (8) weeks to take effect, particularly if we are removing your name from our postal mailings.

Warning

Certain products identified with this symbol  and offered for sale in this catalog contain a chemical known to the state of California to cause birth defects and other reproductive harm.

GOLD COVERAGE

PROTECT YOUR PURCHASE!

Now you can get added warranty protection for your new gear with Gold Coverage that steps in where the manufacturer's "normal wear and tear" ends. This plan extends and expands your coverage up to 3 years.

- In addition to normal wear and tear, Gold Coverage protects you against damage caused by spills, drops, impacts, dust, internal heat, humidity, heavy usage, even lightning and power surges.
- Gold Coverage is transferable from the original owner, adding value even if you plan to sell your gear down the road.
- No-Lemon Policy on gear over $200 – if it fails for the same reason more than 3 times, it is replaced on the fourth breakdown.
- Complete refund in the event of failure or substandard performance on gear under $200.
- Manufacturer's Specs Coverage: The product need not fail to be covered. If it does not perform as it did the first day you bought it, it will be repaired or replaced.
- Great service: The plan is administered by National Electronics Warranty Co. (NEW) offering 24-hour-a-day, toll-free professional services. Repairs are made only at factory-authorized service centers. In most cases, there's one in your nearest metropolitan area. If you're too far away, NEW pays the shipping!

For complete terms and conditions, please visit musiciansfriend.com or call 800-217-5207

To avoid shipping delays – If you are ordering by credit card for the first time from Musician's Friend, you can expedite your order by calling your credit card issuer and adding your "Ship To" address (if different from your regular billing address) to their records.

A. LES PAUL STUDIO DELUXE II '60s

A palette of powerful sounds. Mounted on a carved maple top with a mahogany back, the 490R and Burstbucker Pro pickups offer coil-tapping via their push/push volume pots and a boost circuit with user-adjustable 10-dB boost is activated by rhythm tone control. It comes with Grover tuners and a tune-o-matic bridge. Heritage cherry sunburst finish shown; see more finishes online. Includes hardshell case.

B. LES PAUL TRADITIONAL PRO II '60s NECK ICED TEA

The gigging musician's tool box of tone. It has a non-chambered mahogany body with thick maple cap and Super '57 bridge and '57 Classic neck pickups. Features include antique binding, period-correct pickguard and top hat knobs. Get real coil-splitting and an active boost switch that make this Les Paul an icy cool tool box of tone. Ice tea.

C. LES PAUL J

A lot of tone in one affordable package. It features a mahogany back with "traditional" weight relief and a maple top. The maple neck has a rounded '50s profile for smooth play. A pair of Modern Classics humbuckers are designed to meet the needs of today's guitarist. It comes with a tune-o-matic bridge and vintage-style tuners. Cherry finish shown; see more finishes online.

D. SGJ

Classic tonewoods and innovative hardware. Here's a stripped-down, no-nonsense package with a cool, worn look. The body is solid mahogany with a slim '60s profile maple neck. It comes with 490R and 498T humbucking pickups in the neck and bridge and vintage-style tuners. All finishes feature a grain-textured nitrocellulose lacquer. Chocolate finish shown; see more finishes online.

E. SG STANDARD

A revamped classic. It has all of the classic SG appointments including a double-cutaway mahogany body, slim mahogany neck, bound rosewood fretboard, trapezoid inlays and Gibson's '57 Classic humbucking pickups, plus the original, smaller pickguard with tenon cover for the ultimate vintage-inspired look. Ebony finish shown; see more finishes online.

F. LES PAUL '50s TRIBUTE MIN-ETUNE

A classic that's always in tune. This one starts with the classic tonewood combination of a mahogany body with solid carved maple top. It has a pair of PAF-style BurstBucker humbucking pickups and a '50s profile mahogany neck. The Min-ETune system is hardly noticeable and tunes your guitar in just 3 seconds and 1 strum. Vintage sunburst finish shown; see more finishes online.

G. LES PAUL STANDARD 2013

Meet the new standard of versatility. Sporting a choice of maple tops, this year's model has a new neck profile, a compound-radius fingerboard, and stealth wiring for the BurstBucker Pro 1 & 2 pickups that provides individual coil-splitting, phase reversal, and pure bypass switching—all without changing its timeless beauty and vibe.

H. LES PAUL STANDARD PREMIUM PLUS

Choice woods and modern electronics. Here's a classic in your choice of a carved AAA figured maple top or a plain maple top (for solid colors) all on a mahogany back. It comes with Burstbucker Pro pickups fitted with coil-split capability, locking tuners, neck and body binding, and a '60s slim-taper neck with compound-radius.

H83042 MSRP $819.00 $599<sup>00</sup>

E DRS1 Acoustic-Electric
H71014 MSRP $999.00 $749<sup>00</sup>

F 000X1AE Custom X Series Acoustic-Electric
H81746 MSRP $749.00 $499<sup>00</sup>

G LX1E Little Martin Acoustic-Electric
514513 MSRP $519.00 $399<sup>00</sup>

A. GPCPA1 PLUS ACOUSTIC-ELECTRIC
Strikingly state of the art. The solid rosewood back and sides naturally resonate bass, while the solid Sitka spruce top has a clear and powerful tone. A two-ring pearl rosette, arrows and squares inlay, gloss finish and pickguard add distinguished touches. Fishman F1 Aura+ electronics amplify this Grand performer's tone. Natural finish. Includes Martin Deluxe Hardshell case.

B. D-28 DREADNOUGHT
The standard in steel-string guitars. A classic since its 1931 debut, it has a solid Sitka spruce top with glossy finish, special East Indian rosewood for the back and sides, and ebony for the fingerboard and bridge. With its resonant warmth and punchy volume, it's well-suited to music styles requiring loud, powerful rhythm accompaniment. Natural finish shown; sunburst add $200. Includes Martin deluxe hardshell case.

C. 000-15SM
An instant classic. This small-bodied guitar harkens back to a time before the invasion of the dreadnought. It has an all-mahogany body with slotted headstock, a real rosette, improved inlays and nickel tuners with butterbean knobs. Its 12-fret body design delivers plenty of woody tone and volume, in spite of its size. Includes Martin deluxe hardshell case.

D. CUSTOM X SERIES D12X1AE 12-STRING ACOUSTIC-ELECTRIC
Spectacular 12-string articulation. This one has high pressure laminate (HPL) mahogany back and sides with a solid Sitka spruce top with custom rosette and factory installed Fishman electronics. Easy access volume and tone controls are conveniently and strategically located just inside the sound hole. Natural with solid sitka spruce top.

E. DRS1 ACOUSTIC-ELECTRIC
For working guitarists on a budget. This dreadnought has a top, back and sides of solid sapele and is braced for resonance and projection. It features a multilaminar Stratabond neck and Richlite belly bridge and fingerboard. It comes with the Fishman Sonitone sound reinforcement system discreetly mounted in the soundhole. Natural finish. Includes Martin hardshell case.

F. 000X1AE CUSTOM X SERIES ACOUSTIC-ELECTRIC
Medium-sized and low-priced. Pairing a solid Sitka spruce top with a custom rosette and mahogany-grained high pressure laminate (HPL) back and sides, this one has a surprisingly robust sound in spite of its compact body. Stage-ready, it's equipped with out-of-view Fishman electronics that maintain the look of a veritable and elegant Martin. Natural finish.

G. LX1E LITTLE MARTIN ACOUSTIC-ELECTRIC
Comfortable, portable and distinctively Martin. This small travel and student guitar has a solid Sitka spruce soundboard atop the small, modified 0-14 body. Fishman Isys T electronics let you electrify your sound. Includes Morado fretboard and bridge, 23" scale, low-oval neck and Martin's mortise/tenon neck joint. Gotoh nickel tuners. Natural finish. Includes Martin gig bag.
